Duncan claimed at that time that Newman had taken two of his (Dunhad kept them from voting, and that he (Duncan) intended to kill Newman whenthat Duncan had spent thirty-three months of the last six years in Jeffersonville interest in the company. prison, and had only returned to his neighborhood last winter, a few months before the tragedy. John Evans and Officer War-Duncan shot him, Mrs. Catherine Newman, that her son was thirty-four years old and | May 1. that she was present when he died. This closed the testimony of the State. David Duncan, the defendant, was the first witness introduced by the defense. He said he was twenty-five years old and was reared in Hancock county; he had known Jacob Newman fourteen years, and they always had been the best of friends. They had lived in the same neighborhood and had had no trouble until the night of Feb. 21, when Newman was fatally shot; saw Newman about 1 o'clock Feb. 21, and they had drinks together, for which Duncan paid. Following this the testimony was unimportant until the circumstances involving the shooting were reached. Dun-

"We reached Meloy's barn about 6:30 or 7 o'clock. We went across the street to Williams's saloon and one other and had several drinks. I went back to Meloy's barn and stayed, while Newman went up town, as he said, to see a girl. When he came back we went across to Williams's and drank together. There were Newman and myself with the Ensley boy and a straw baler that I do not know. I said: 'Let's have another drink and then go home. Newman and I went directly across the street to the stable and I ordered the pony and buggy. While they were getting ready I walked back to the pump to get a drink of water. Newman followed me, and throwing his right arm around my neck, without saying a word. I knew the character of the man and what he had done before. I drew my revolver and fired into and I fired two more shots into him. The straw baler knocked me down. Newman got up off the floor and went into the stable office and I followed. I asked for the sheriff, and, when asked why I did the shooting, said that I had a right to protect my property. I saw Newman the afternoon of Feb. 25. Jake asked me why I shot him and I told him that I did not know, thinking that if I said that he was trying to rob me I would be reducing his chances of recovery. I told him that I was Newman said: 'Well, Dave, you did it, anyway,' and I answered, 'Yes,

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 7.-Chief Justice Hazelrigg, of the Court of Appeals, this afternoon granted a writ of error from the decision of the Court of Appeals to the Supreme Court of the United States, in the contest over the offices of Governor and lieutenant governor. Finding the chief justice out of the city they drove out his side. ALMOST TOUCHED OFF.

Spark Narrowly Missed Kentucky Powder Keg-Several Shots Fired.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 7.-There great excitement here to-night. Two soldiers at the Statehouse were arrested for drunkenness by the police and their comrades rescued them. A number of shots were fired but no one was hurt. Chief of Police Williams summoned his full force and went to the Statehouse to demand the prisoners. The Beckham military authorities intercepted the police and dissuaded them from attempting to capture the men who had started the trouble and who had been rescued by their comrades.

The soldiers of the opposing administrations were drawn up ready for action and trouble was very narrowly averted. The soldiers at the Statehouse remained drawn up ready for action for several minutes after the police and deputy sheriffs withdrew, but later all of them except those doing nightwatch duty went inside the State buildings and the excitement abated. The two soldiers who were arrested were on the street, not far from the Statehouse, and were either drunk or pretending to be drunk, so the police say. Officers Hayden and O'Rear made the arrests, and as they started to take them into custody, a squad of twenty-five soldiers dashed out of the yard and ordered venue from Ripfey, brought in a verdict for the officers to release their comrades. A scuffle followed between the police and the men under arrest in which several soldiers joined, pulling the prisoners away from the police, while the other soldiers turned loose a volley of from fifteen to twenty-five shots, which evidently were fired in the air. Having rescued their comrades the soldiers retired inside the yard.
